Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair! Why don't you just drive us all to the poor house--we're being pushed there anyway!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. Mainly safety and security up here in the wilderness. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. They make the big bucks--we don't! Why do you seek to penalize us? I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Lynne Ramos
